

MCPOLIN OFFICE UPDATES
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 2019

Dear caregivers and parents,

Welcome to the last office update of November. As wonderful as the weather has been, I for one am looking forward to our winter weather returning and all the fun that comes with it.

As we head into our Thanksgiving Break next week, here are a couple of pieces of information to share:

- We will be laying out all of the items left in the lost and found bins along the hallway. Please check carefully as we will be donating all unclaimed items to a charity over the break.
- McPolin has a tradition of making sure ALL FAMILIES have a wonderful holiday season. If you are directly in need or know of a family needing support contact the front office and we will make sure all students have plenty during to enjoy and share during the holiday season.

Thanks to everyone for a very positive and productive first trimester of the year. Working closely with our community and families could not be more important. We recognize that our work is never done and the adults at McPolin need to continue to grow and learn just as much as the students. Thank you for being such an involved community and for caring about all students.

Have a wonderful last few days of school and Thanksgiving Break!

Sincerely,
Bob Edmiston
